

NO to cell use aboard commercial passenger aircraft while in flight (excluding actual emergencies where people will attempt to use their cellphones regardless) the majority of cell users have no clue or worse they don't care as to the noise they create and no one wants to listen to one side of their communication.

(yes - I have a cell for business / emergencies and it stays off whenever possible)